TO THE UNITED COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS: WELCOME TO GOING, GROWING GREENSBORO

UNITED COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS GATHER

Annual Session Grand Council of Carolinas Begins This Morning—Welcome Address by Mayor Murphy---Many Knights of Grip Will be Here.

Today's Program.

10 a. m.—Opera House—Public Meeting.
Overture.
Invocation. Rev. C. E. Hodgin.
Address of Welcome, Mayor Thomas J. Murphy.
Response, E. Van Schaack, Columbia, S. C.
11 a. m.—Council Chamber. Business Session.
11 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.—Automobile ride for ladies.
3 p. m.—Business session.
4:30 to 5:30 p. m.—Reception to visiting ladies at Merchants and Manufacturers' Club.
8:30 p. m.—Business session.
9 to 12—Reception and dance in Neese's Hall.

Today the sixth annual convention of the United Commercial Travelers of North and South Carolina will begin, the opening session to be held in the opera house at 10 o'clock. The session will be presided over by A. G. Barnette, Grand Senior Counselor of the Carolinas. The session will be open to the public and a cordial invitation to attend is extended the general public.

The address of welcome to the travelers will be delivered by Mayor Murphy and the response will be by E. Van Schaack, of Columbia. The White Oak band has been engaged to furnish music for the occasion.

The knights of the grip began arriving yesterday afternoon and each train brought a number of the travelers. However, the majority of the visitors will arrive this evening and tomorrow morning. It is expected that more than five hundred travelers will participate in the grand parade Saturday morning. The Charlotte aggregation will come in large numbers and will bring the Charlotte Drum Corps to lead the procession. Other nearby cities will be largely represented in the parade.

The business to come before the convention will be attended to today and this evening in order that tomorrow may be given over wholly to pleasure, of which a bounteous supply has been arranged. The principal business of general interest will be the election of officers, the selection of the place of meeting and the election of delegates to the National council. Of course, there will be a number of matters of interest to members of the order but will not be made public.

Social Features.

The reception to the visiting ladies to be held in the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club this afternoon will no doubt be largely attended and many Greensboro ladies will be on hand to welcome the visiting ladies. The dance this evening in Neese's hall will be the most largely attended event of the kind ever given here. On account of the fact that so many invitations have been sent out admission will be by card only as it is believed that the capacity of the hall will be taxed to accommodate the members and their wives and invited friends. The dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and last until 12. Hood's orchestra has been secured to furnish music for the occasion.

The Ball Game.

The ball game tomorrow afternoon, being preceded by a dinner at Lindley Park, will be the feature of the convention. The captains of the two teams have been beseiged by players since their arrival in town. It is known that 10,000 tickets have been sold and every traveler who thinks he could possibly heave a ball through the air is "pulling" his friends to secure a berth on the team, hoping that the winning team will get a bonus of two thirds the gate receipts. With so much material to select from the managers are puzzled and it is doubtful if a line-up can be selected before the umpire calls play ball.

Officers.

The officers of the Grand Council are as follows:

A. G. Barnette, Grand Senior Counselor.
E. Van Schaack, Grand Junior Counselor.
O. Williams, Past Grand Counselor.
E. B. Littlefield, Grand Secretary.
C. O. Kuester, Grand Treasurer.

MUCH WORK FOR FALL TERM OF SUPREME COURT.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Coincident with the ending of the term of the Supreme Court of the United States and the departure of the justices for their summer vacations has been the planning of an immense amount of work for the court when it meets again next October.

Thirty-five cases, some of far-reaching importance, have been advanced for hearing on the first day of next term, "or, as soon thereafter as practicable.' The quoted phrase is estimated to be equivalent to a month, for it is said that it will take at least that time to hear the arguments in all these cases.

Man and Wife Held.

Atlanta, Ga., June 1.—Will Edwards and his young wife, both in jail, were indicted by the grand jury yesterday for diamond-stealing, and are held with a bond fixed so high that it probably will not be made. Edwards is also held for trying to entice a young girl into his room.

Destruction of $2,500,000 Coney Island Resort; 300 Foot Observation Tower and Iron Pier Gone.

The fire which destroyed Dreamland, the great pleasure park at Coney Island, New York, was most spectacular. The flaming 300 foot observation tower could be seen for many miles until it finally fell with a crash. The dozens of amusement places in the park were burned. Black Prince, a vicious lion which was a part of an animal show, was shot to death. The fire loss is placed at $2,500,000.

J. J. HILL PREPARES FOR RETIREMENT

Special to Telegram.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 1.—James J. Hill, for half a century identified with the development of the Northwest as no other man has been, is preparing the way for retirement from active business life. The filing of the $600,000,000 mortgage on the Great Northern is the first step in this direction.

Mr. Hill today characterized as "rubbish" the rumors of the consolidation of the Great Northern and Burlington railways and of combining the Northern Pacific with the Chicago and North Western or the Chicago Great Western.

"I am seventy-three years old and do not want to die with my boots on," Mr. Hill said. "My interests are large and cannot be dropped in a moment. If I am ever going to have any lesiure in my life it is about time I had it and I have taken the first step towards securing it."

Big Railroad Merger Reported.

Knoxville, Tenn., June 1.—It is reported that effective July 1st the Athens and Tellico railroad will be merged with the Louisville and Nashville system and will become a part of the Knoxville division, to be operated under the direct jurisdiction of Supt. R. C. Morris, of Knoxville. The Athens and Tellico road extends 24 miles from Athens to Tellico, Tenn., and crosses the main line of the Louisville and Nashville, eight miles east of Athens. The Louisville and Nashville acquired interest in this road early last year and has expended about a quarter of a million dollars on improvements.

SENATE ORDERS NEW INQUIRY IN THE LORIMER CASE

Committee on Privileges and Elections Instructed to Make Thorough Investigation, Especially Regarding The "Jack-Pot" Fund —Senate Unanimous For Inquiry

Special to Telegram.

Washington, June 1.—The Senate this afternoon ordered a reopening of the Lorimer case. The committee on privileges and elections is instructed to make a new and thorough investigation, especially to determine what effect thte "jack-pot" fund had on the election of Mr. Lorimer.

The Senate unanimously favored a new inquiry. The question at issue was one of procedure. The progressive Republicans and a fraction of the Democrats favored the designation of a committee composed entirely of newly elected Senators, who supposedly possessed open minds. The major portion of the Democrats supported a resolution offered by Senator Martin, directing the committee on privileges and elections to make the investigation as a whole. The resolution favored by the progressives was offered by Senator LaFollette. The Martin resolution was accepted by the regular Republicans and was adopted by a vote of 48 to 20.

Building Permit.

A building permit was issued yesterday to J. H. Morgan for the erection of a seven room house on South Ashe street. The estimated cost is $1,000.

AMERICANS WIN BIG POLO MEET

Special to Telegram.

New York, June 1.—Before a crowd of 20,000 spectators the international polo match between the Americans and the British was won by the Americans by the score of 4 1-2 to 3. In the first half of the game the British were far in the lead but the brilliant playing of Milburn and Waterbury turned the tide. The Americans were penalized 1-2 point for fouls, while the British were penalized 1 point for fouls. The American scores were made as follows: Waterbury 1, Whitney 1, Milburn 3. The British scores were made by Edwards, who made 4.

MAYOR

Cutchin, of Roanoke, Found Guilty of Malfeasance In Office

Special to Telegram.

Roanoke, Va., June 1.—Mayor Joel H. Cutchin was found guilty of malfeasance in office today after a trial lasting for sixteen days. Sentence was suspended pending action on a motion for a new trial.

The aged mayor was accused of being in league with keepers of disorderly houses.

CATAWBA FARMERS ARRIVED YESTERDAY

Fifteen Sturdy Soil Tillers Here to Inspect Guilford's Good Roads—Will be Taken Out This Morning—Guests of Chamber of Commerce.

Chaperoned by Editor George F. Cochrane, of the Catawba County News, fifteen representative farmers of Catawba county arrived in Greensboro yesterday afternoon and are here as guests of the Chamber of Commerce. These gentlemen were selected by readers of the Catawba County News in a voting contest and some of the most progressive farmers of that county are in the crowd.

The object of the farmers in coming to Greensboro was to inspect some of Guilford county's famous roads, gather information regarding the construction of the roads and the cost and then get back home and stir up interest in good roads in Catawba. The county authorities are co-operating with the Chamber of Commerce in this matter and every effort will be made to give the farmers the "time of their lives" during their stay in the city.

This morning at 8 o'clock the Catawba gentlemen will be taken in automobiles and carried over a number of the roads of the county, visiting the Battle Ground, Pomona, the High Point road and several other of the main thoroughfares of the county. On their return they will collect data regarding the construction of the roads and the cost of building them. The following citizens have agreed to furnish autos for the trip: W. C. Boren, 2; Paul Lindley, S. L. Trogdon, C. M. Vanstory, Garland Daniel, Robert Sloan, J. A. Odell. All other auto owners are invited to accompany the party on the inspection tour.

Yesterday afternoon the farmers saw Winston defeat Greensboro and last night they were the guests of the Bijou at the moving picture show. On their return today from the road inspection trip the farmers will probably visit White Oak Mills, the Normal College and other places of interest.

The following farmers compose the party here with Editor Cochrane:

A. Q. Hawn, Newton, R. F. D. 5.
N. C. Setzer, Newton, R. F. D. 2.
R. R. Coulter, Newton, R. F. D. 3.

INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE HEARS STARTLING FACTS

Judge Gary Says Government Has Examined Books of Steel Trust For Past Five Years—Gathered Enough Facts to Fill a Room, He Declares.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, June 1.—Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the steel trust, was the star witness before the special investigating committee here today. He made the astonishing statement that the government was already in possession of everything to which he could testify.

When asked to explain Judge Gary said: "For six years the bureau of corporations has been examining our books. They must have a mass of papers that would almost fill this room."

"What," demanded Chairman Stanley, "Do you mean to say that the bureau has been looking at your business from the very inside for four or five years?"

"Yes, why certainly," answered the witness. "I don't know how many hundred thousand dollars it has cost us to aid the bureau in its investigations."

Replying to a question by Chairman Stanley the witness, despite objection by Counsel Lindaberry, stated that he did not know whether the bureau had furnished the information so obtained to the president, but he hoped that it would within the next few months. The further testimony of Judge Gary dwelt largely with the relation of the trust to subsidiary companies and its manner of controlling them through the directors.

In discussing the absorption of the Carnegie Steel Company Judge Gary said that the concern had a capital of $160,000,000 of common stock and $16,000,000 of preferred stock. "The syndicate that organized the United States Steel Corporation paid to the Carnegie interests $303,450,000 in bonds and $98,277,120 in preferred stock and $90,279,230 in common stock of the United States Steel Corporation," declared the witness.

IMPORTANT RULINGS OF SUPREME COURT

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, June 1.—In the noted poisoning case of State vs. Holly in which J. C. Holly is under sentence to be electrocuted, the new trial is granted by the Supreme Court on account of error in the trial below in the admission of evidence, notably a question to a witness who had given Holly a good character, as to whether he had not heard that Holly poisoned his wife and one in which an objectionable hypothetical question was asked.

The case of Atlantic Coast Line vs. Goldsboro ends in a victory for the town in that it is held that the railroad company can be compelled to lower its grade tracks laid before the town was chartered to conform with new grades established for the streets to conform to a general scheme of drainage. It settles this issue as to the right of towns in general to control railroads in this particular.

Another case of particular interest is Youngsville Township vs. Webb & Co. which settles the right of townships to issue road bonds without a vote of the people. The validity of such bonds were in question and have been issued under similar circumstances in many parts of the State. The ruling in this case fixes their validity.

GONZALES WILL BE GOVERNOR OF CHIHUAHUA.

Juarez, June 1.—Word was received here today that the legislature of the state of Chihuahua would probably convene tomorrow and elect Abraham Gonzales provisional governor. Gonzales has been one of the most active of the Madeto chiefs and his election will complete the installation of provisional governors in Northern Mexico.

Alberto Madero, an uncle of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., arrived here today from Chihauhua to inform Senor Madero of conditions about the city. He said General Villar, the Federal commander, had expressed a desire that the large body of insurrecto troops north of the city should not approach too closely, as friction for the present could be avoided by keeping the rival soldiers apart.

"Long Tom," one of the insurrecto cannon, was presented to the city of El Paso today by Francisco I. Madero, Jr., in a speech at the international bridge. Mayor Kelly responded.

WELCOME TO GREENSBORO, UNITED COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS!

The keys of the city of Greensboro are in the possession of the United Commercial Travelers of North and South Carolina today and tomorrow. The representatives of this organization in the two States and members and friends of the organization are welcome to this city and to its hospitality and to the best it affords.

The United Commercial Travelers of North and South Carolina are a fine body of men, and the members of the organization who are now in this city are representative members of this splendid body of citizens. These men and the men who are not present, whom our guests of today and tomorrow represent, compose a body of business men which is an active factor in the commercial life of the two States; and through their travels in other States, their influence extends to other sections.

The commercial traveler of today is a product of evolution. As in the case of other classes of men there has been a wonderful change wrought in the personnel of the men in the ranks of commercial travelers, and the trend of the change has been upward and it has been for the better in every respect. Since the days when the commercial traveler was commonly known as a "drummer" and was admired chiefly (and only by certain classes) for his ability to drink and smoke and "yarn", the man with the sample case has risen to a position of influence in the business life of the country which is not second to that of any other citizen. The old time "drummer" had his faults and frailties, but was a "good fellow" and must be given credit for laying the foundation for the upbuilding of such organizations as the United Commercial Travelers and was the pioneer of the great army of men who lead the forces of industry and commerce into all the highways and byways of trade in this and other countries of the world today. However, the modern commercial traveler, the product of evolution in the ranks of the knights of the grip, is a different man and a better representative of the business interests of the country than was the "drummer." The commercial travelers, like other classes of men, have made progress within their own ranks and they have kept pace with the progress of the country. They have been steadily keeping step with the march of development and expansion in industry, in commerce, in all lines of business and in the mental and moral uplift of the country and its intellectual development. The result is a body of men who are respected by all classes, who are recognized everywhere as gentlemen; whose courage, integrity, energy and business acumen and ability make the pace for commerce and industry throughout the country.

The commercial traveler takes his life in his hands, facing the dangers of travel, of disease; and he also faces the discomforts of travel and the unpleasantness incident to lack of home life, and goes forth to make the wheels of industry revolve, the engines of transportation move, and to fill the marts of trade with the hum of business. He accomplishes this fact by selling his merchandise. He is the man who sells the goods; who finds the market, the buyers, who creates the demand for a product oftimes where no demand existed before. Consequently, the commercial traveler has a large and important part in the business of the country and an honored place among its citizens.

Greensboro is the home of a large number of commercial travelers, many of whom belong to the organization which the city now has the honor and the pleasure of entertaining; and there are residing here many other knights of the sample case; consequently Greensboro is familiar with the commercial traveler, his character and habits, and estimates his worth at its real value. The Greensboro travelers are among this city's best citizens. They have always been welcomed here as citizens and will continue to find that this city appreciates the men of their class and is ready to receive them as visitors or as citizens.

Because of familiarity with traveling men and knowledge of their real worth and because of what they have done for Greensboro in casting their lot here in large numbers and in spreading abroad knowledge of this place; because of their boosting proclivities and their loyalty to the city, Greensboro is doubly glad to welcome those who are guests today. May they enjoy their stay as much as Greensboro will enjoy having them as guests.

THE CATAWBA COUNTY FARMERS WILL SEE GOOD ROADS.

The fifteen Catawba county farmers who are the guests of the city of Greensboro and the county of Guilford today, as well as the guests of the Catawba County News, are welcome to this section. They have been warmly received and everything possible will be done to make their stay pleasant and to stimulate their enthusiasm for road improvement and to impress them with the fact that this county leads the counties of North Carolina in having the best system of roads, as a whole, in the State. In selecting Guilford as the county to which they would go for the purpose of viewing model roads, for the purpose of securing information as to road construction and preservation, the Catawba county citizens have conferred great honor upon this county. Their action is further evidence of the recognition of the fact by the State that Guilford's roads are unexcelled and that Guilford's methods command the attention of good roads advocates everywhere.

The progressive people of this county not only advocate road improvement for their own county but for all the counties of the State; and as the Catawba citizens come for purposes of investigation preliminary to inaugurating a good roads campaign in their own county, the people of Guilford trust that what they see and learn here of road building and the benefits of improved highways will so impress and enthuse them that each member of the party will return home a good roads missionary, to spread abroad in Catawba county the knowledge secured here about the planning and construction of improved highways and in regard to their vast profitableness as an investment, their great value to town and country as an aid to development and the satisfaction and pleasure they afford every person who has occasion to travel the public roads. To this end the visitors will be given every possible aid in securing information about the details of road planning and building. They will see the roads and will learn much about road building and the effects of improved highways upon the growth of the county, the upbuilding of the towns, the price of lands, the extension and improvement of the school system and the rural mail delivery system and the general effect of road improvement upon all classes of business and all the interests of the people in sections where the highways have been modernized.

The Catawba farmers will see good roads in Guilford and they will see a good country and evidences of thrift, of prosperity, of progressiveness on every side. Doubtless they will be duly impressed with the things seen and heard and the experience will prove beneficial to them as individuals and to their county as a whole, because the information disseminated upon their return to their homes will assuredly have its effect in encouraging the people of Catawba county to undertake movements which they have heretofore not been willing to attempt. It was a fine stroke of policy on the part of the Catawba County News to bring a number of the county's leading farmers to Greensboro and Guilford county on this trip. The News in so doing is performing a distinct service for its county and constituency; and that should be the main consideration, while at the same time it is probably a good business proposition for the newspaper as an advertising scheme.

Here's to the citizens from Catawba! May they richly enjoy every minute of their stay in Guilford county, and they and their fellow citizens profit by the experience; and if any of them should decide that they prefer Guilford to Catawba, a royal welcome awaits their permanent transference to this county.

It is in bad taste for a commencement orator to talk politics to the graduates of a female college in the South. Very few women in this section are suffragettes and an overwhelming majority of the women are not even interested in politics.

The Mount Airy Leader wants to know if General Carr will run for the United States Senate as a poor man, if he gets in the game. The General will probably have more difficulty in standing on a platform of that kind than will be experienced by Senator Simmons or Mr. Aycock.

There is always something doing in Greensboro. The Catawba county farmers and the United Commercial Travelers are in town today, and before the echoes of their footsteps have died away, others will be here. People just naturally like to visit Greensboro. Greensboro welcomes all who come and would be glad to have everyone stay. Nothing would afford this city so much pleasure as to have all who visit here become permanent citizens. However, we cannot hope to secure all who come as citizens and we will be satisfied with a reasonable percentage. If all the people who visit Greensboro remained here it would only be a few months until the city limits would have to be enlarged to the proportions of Charlotte and, unlike Charlotte, the territory inside the limits would be crowded with people.

FIRST NEWSPAPER OF WORLD WAS FOUNDED IN ROME BY JULIUS CAESAR.

Though it has often been said that China is the land where the history of newspapers began, the credit really belongs to the Romans. As early as the year 59 B. C. Julius Caesar founded the first newspaper in the world. This paper was called Acta Populi Romania Riurna, which would be translated Daily Records of the Roman People. The copies were distributed in the provinces of the Roman empire, which at that time included what are now Spain, France, Germany, Greece and other countries along the Mediterranean.

This Roman newspaper contained leading articles about important legislative events, battles fought, etc.; also news of various kinds. Copies of those newspapers have not been preserved, but in some of the works of ancient writers fragments of the Acta Diurna have been published which led to the celebrated falsification of the "Fragmenta Dodwelliana" in the fifteenth century, wherein fragments of old Roman newspapers were skillfully imitated in accordance with the descriptions of them contained in ancient historical works.

The Peking Gazette, which was thought to be the first newspaper in the world, was published for the first time in 911 and has been regularly published up to the present time. Its present form and makeup generally are the same as the original issue nearly a thousand years ago. It is ten inches in length and four inches in width. The leaves, of which there are eighteen, are of soft, thin paper with uncut edges, and they are printed in Chinese characters on one side only. These sheets are inclosed in a thin yellow cover and are fastened at the back with a few light stitches. During the latter part of the eighteenth century the paper was printed in the imperial palace from movable types of copper, afterward from wax tablets and for the past seventy years from movable type of wood. The Gazette is compiled from papers presented before the general council of the Chinese empire and constitutes the principal medium available to the people for ascertaining what is going on in the country. Couriers are dispatched to all parts of the empire bearing copies of these papers to high and prominent officers.

It was not until the year 1615 that the Post Zeitung, published at Frankfort, made its appearance as the first newspaper published in Europe. During the seventeenth century the progress of newspaper publishing was very slow. Following the Post Zeitung, a paper published at irregular intervals appeared in Antwerp (1616). The first English newspaper was the Weekly News, issued in 1622. In 1643 the first Swedish newspaper was published at Stockholm.

During the early part of the eighteenth century many papers made their appearance in various parts of the continent and in England. Peter the Great took a personal part in the establishment of the first Russian journal, which was published in Moscow in 1703.

The development of the newspaper industry in the orient has been very remarkable. We have been so accustomed to look to the east only for light on the great problems of history that it seems too much to expect from that quarter of the globe news and knowledge of our day and generation. Yet nevertheless some of the most remarkable and intellectual newspapers are published in Greece and Syria and in India.

Of the papers published in India the Bengal Hurkuru, which made its first appearance in 1795, is the oldest. The Hindus seem to be very forbearing toward their newspapers and journals generally. The press of India is conducted for the most part on very free and easy principles.

The Boston News Letter was the first paper published on the North American continent. The first edition of this paper was got out on April 24, 1704. The second periodical to be published was the Boston Gazette, which was followed a day later by the American Weekly Mercury. This last newspaper was published in Philadelphia on December 22, 1719.

There is a file of it in the Philadelphia library that is almost complete and that is invaluable for a study of the early days of American journalism. It was at first a single sheet with two columns to the page, four columns in all, but even during its first year double numbers were sometimes published. It was printed by Andrew Bradford and John Copson. The first advertiser in the Mercury was Copson who had a negro boy for sale, and on the 1st of March, 1720, Bradford advertised "Super Fine Bohee Tea at 22 shillings per pound."

Advertising Talks

H. G. B.

Sometimes the advertising man hears this statement made: "I don't see any difference in my business when I advertise and when I don't advertise." The trouble with this class of business men is probably in every case that they have put in an advertisement for a few days, dropped out and perhaps not thought of advertising again for several months. Then another spell takes them, and in a few days their names appear again. Successful advertising is not done on that basis. The plan is to be everlastingly at it. There is no trouble to see the DIFFERENCE in the progress being made by those PROGRESSIVE STORES that are CONSTANT and REGULAR ADVERTISERS and the SPASMOTIC SEMI-OCCASIONALLY users of space.

Let your advertising be regular, with frequent changes of copy. Even if you want to convey the same thought, say it just a little differently. "Variety is the spice of life." Variety in your advertising copy will create an interest on the part of the readers—will produce results.

In Greensboro, The Telegram, the paper that goes home, that prints all the news while the bloom is on it, will give you result-getting service.

Your Letters Appreciated

(By POLLY PAGET.)

Where is the girl who is not pleased to see a man's handwriting aming the letters on her breakfast table? Even if she is not in love with that particular individual, it is nice to get pleasant, friendly letters, especially if a man is abroad, and she also feels that by corresponding with him she is giving him a taste of home.

But remember, it takes two to make a chatty correspondence, so on your part when you write to your girl friends, tell her little odds and ends of things about yourself. What you are doing, and so forth, will interest her more than mere generalities.

Don't be afraid of the egotistical "I." It's you the lady likes to hear of if she troubles to write to you; but don't forget to evince a little interest in her doings. Comment upon any news she may send you.

Now for acknowledged lovers. How important it is to let each other see that it is not "out of sight, out of mind." Men are so apt to take for granted that their affection is understood and returned; but even the most matter-of-fact girl in the bottom of her heart likes to have a repeated assurance of her absent lover's devotion.

Surely this is natural, for she cannot be expected to believe he is "always thinking of her" if he but rarely troubles to write to her. If only some men could realize how much their letters are appreciated they would surely snatch a few minutes out of the busy day to send a few lines to their sweethearts. But men have so many other interests, and often pleasure as well as business relegates letter-writing to a secondary place, especially when there are no great happinings to record. Not that they forget exactly, but they don't just consider that the mere fact of hearing from her lover often brightens the whole aspect of a girl's day.

On the other hand, when the postman passes by each time with never a message from Archie, there is ample excuse case may be, that Peggy feels.

PUSHED TO THE LIMIT

(By CARA REESE.)

Pushed to the limit? You only think so. There are folks whose memories carry them back a few years ago, and they recall the wail they sent up then about being pushed to the limit. They are wiser now. It wasn't the limit after all. A great deal more has happened since in the way of shoves.

Never lay the flattering unction to you soul that you are pushed to the limit or have reached the limit, for it is not so, and your resigned declaration may only invite another punishment. There are progressive families who lift the voice when number twelve arrives and cry but "the limit," and yet the Bible roster in due course of time chronicles a "baker's dozen."

It is the same with the expense account, or the conduct of mischievous boys and girls, or the delinquencies, peculiarities and disagreeable traits of those forming part of domestic or industrial environment. Folks are "pushed to the limit," according to their own viewpoint, when affairs reach an apparently troublesome climax or when a stone wall stubbornly rises to hinder advance, or when they encounter a bridgeless sea or bring up at the edge of a chasm. They are "pushed to the limit" in their own calculation when troubles and trials and sufferings and anxieties heap up on their shoulders until they are forced to their knees in order to support the pyramid. They are "pushed to the limit" when the money gives out, when the doors are shut in their face, when they walk the earth alone and homeless.

That is, they think they are "pushed to the limit." A few years hence and they will look back and smile at the easy grace of the "limit" of the past. Things keep on happening. There are new shoves every few days. The wise plan is to turn these pushes to interesting account, something like a "tug of war" test with existence. It is really curious how the stone wall recedes with the years, but even brings up relentlessly as the milestones are passed. The "limits" are invariably ahead and more difficult and relentless. You think you are dealing with "the limit" at present, but just wait!

How would it do to have a good laugh? To be sure it is no laughing matter when there is not cash enough to keep up with the living expenses, when there is not work enough to support the dependent, when there is not strength enough to hold out against the afflictions and hard knocks. It is no laughing matter not to know which way to turn, or to have decisions made against you, or to be facing the ruin of your material possessions or the blasting of all fair hopes. In the face of many of these trials and sufferings it seems almost sacriligious to say you only think you have reached the "limit." And yet you little know what a real limit means. Be of good cheer, lift no loud wail nor indulge in morbid, rebellious thought. There are degrees even beyond these. Do not further invite troubles.

A Charming Woman

is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. But its hard for a woman to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always proves a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion and perfect health. Try them. 50c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

However little the money her husband gets, a woman calls it income; and however much her neighbor's pay.

Middle Aged and Elderly People,
Use Foley Kidney Pills for quick and permanent results in all cases of kidney and bladder troubles, and for painful and annoying irregularities. For sale by Howard Gardner.

What a girl really knows about the way to treat a proposal of marriage she never learned from her mother.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

YOUR NEIGHBOR'S EXPERIENCE
How you may profit by it. Take Foley Kidney Pills. Mrs. Mrs. E. G. Whiting, 360 Willow St., Akron, O., says: "For some time I had a very serious case of kidney trouble and I suffered with backaches and dizzy headaches. I had specks floating before my eyes and I felt all tired out and miserable. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised and got a bottle and took them according to directions and results showed almost at once. The pain and dizzy headaches left me, my eye-sight became clear and today I can say I am a well woman, thanks to Foley Kidney Pills." For sale by Howard Gardner.

BEAUTY VERSUS BRAINS

(By JOHN WATSON WHYTE.)

I take it that,, having regard to the marvelous resources of the drapery trade, the tremendous influence of Fashion, and the vast trade which exists in all articles and preparations for the cultivation and preservation of beauty, that beauty is a quality desired by all ladies.

Whether this desire for beauty is based on a wish to attract the affections of our sex, or the dislike of your own, I have never yet been able to determine.

First of all, ladies, let me assure you that beauty and brains very seldom go together, since it is not the habit of Nature to wrap all her best goods in one parcel. So it happens that Belinda the Beautiful is generally very much more stupid than Honoria the Homely. This difference is often accentuated by the fact that Belinda, throughout the course of her youth, finds that she can attract all the attention that she wants without any mental effort.

The result is, Belinda, remaining well content with herself and all the kind world by which she is surrounded, does not bestir herself to acquire the traditional gifts of culture and intellect, which are only to be attained by diligence and hard study.

Any bachelor who has met Belinda at a dance will tell you how uphill a job it is to make any sort of conversational headway with her. This is the sort of conversation that often throws him back on himself, wondering how one so beautiful can be so brainless.

Bachelor (seeking for a topic)—Awfully jolly dance, isn't it?

Beauty—Awfully.

Bachelor—Are you fond of dancing?

Beauty—Awfully.

Bachelor (somewhat disheartened)—Good floor, isn't it?

Beauty—Awfully.

Bachelor (desperately) — Would you care for some refreshment?

Beauty—Awfully.

Of course, ladies, the only thing to do with a girl of this sort is to give her something to eat!

We often wonder why the beautiful girl of our acquaintance so often remains uncourted long after her more homely sisters have become engaged and married.

Shakespeare has told us that "Beauty draws us by a single hair," but a more modern poet has told us in his advice to young recruits:

"Now, if you must marry, take care she is old—
A troop sergeant's widow's the nicest, I'm told;
For beauty won't help if your rations is cold,
Nor love ain't enough for a soldier."

Probably there is much truth in the latter lines. Belinda the Beautiful, too self-assured, has taken no trouble to learn those arts by which human affections are held secure. Perhaps she is undomesticated and, maybe, of expensive tastes.

Honoria the Homely, on the other hand, starts in the race of life from the scratch mark. With no gift of extraordinary beauty from nature, she is freed from all the temptations of pride and vanity.

To make up for the lack of looks she is bound to study the art of pleasing. To her the world is not quite so kind as it is to her more favored sister, and so she remains unspoiled. What she lacks in beauty she learns to make good by charm, and even be she downright ugly, she will learn to make all men forget it.

An eminent French writer has said, "There are no ugly women," and in this regard he is quite true. For all the reputation that beauty has gained, men's hearts are held by that indefinite quality known as "personality" or charm."

The eye forms its own beauty, and poor is the woman who is not beautiful to someone in this world.

"What care I how fair she be,
If she be not fair to me?"

is the couplet with which every susceptible bachelor protects his heart against the attacks of beauty, and thus the plain girl comes into her own. The beauty may attract a dozen would-be lovers, but sooner or later they ride away to marry other ladies less favored by nature and more generously endowed with brains.

It is Honoria the Homely who, sooner or later, like the Ugly Duckling of the fairy tale, turns into a swan at last. Rightly or wrongly, she succeeds in persuading some young man that she is the only girl on earth; and once she has accomplished this feat, she is quite clever enough to keep him persuaded.

It is all very well for us, ladies, to wonder audibly, "What on earth can he see in her?" Suffice it that she has succeeded in throwing the love dust into his eyes, blinding him to all imperfections, so that she is counted by him the most beautiful of all women. And here, ladies, let me whisper the whole secret of beauty from the man's point of view.

One little pinch of this magic dust thrown in a man's eye will do more to make you beautiful than all the aid of dressmakers, milliners and beauty specialists. In most cases its effect is a permanent love blindness which will last him for the rest of his natural life.

But, after all, I dare say you would sooner try to produce the effect with a new hat!

Yesterday's Grind in Municipal Court

Only one case was disposed of in Municipal Court yesterday morning. Mike Susman, a young Jew of 19 years, was found guilty on the charge of larceny. The court was informed that the boy had received several road sentences before but was impressed with the fact that there was a possibility of making a good citizen of the erring youth and much excellent and fatherly advice was given to the prisoner by the court. Sentence was suspended on the payment of the costs and a promise that the boy would secure steady employment and discontinue his bad habits.

A negro named Charles Lane was arrested yesterday morning for the larceny of a watch from R. C. Moore. When the case came on trial the defendant plead not guilty and asked for more time to prepare his case. The case was continued to Friday morning.

On request of the attorney for the Southern Railway, the case against that corporation for blocking Sergeant street longer than five minutes, was continued until the regular session Saturday morning.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Postmaster-General Hitchcock today announced the designation of seventy-four more second-class postoffices, scattered in forty-one states, as postal savings depositories, effective June 27. Those in the South follow:

Florence, Ala.; Searcy, Ark.; Fernandlina, Fla; Hawkinsville, Ga.; Bowling Green, Ky.; Bogalusa, La.; Brook Haven, Miss.; High Point, N. C.; Laurens, S. C.; Brownsville and Tullahoma, Texas; Nacogdoches, Texas; Fredericksburg and Warrenton, Va.

MILLION DOLLARS A DAY WILL BE SPENT FOR ROADS

Washington, June 1.—One million dollars a day is the record that will be established throughout the United States as the expenditure for improving and maintaining public roads. Never before in the history of the country has there been such interest in the improvement of highways, and with the legislatures of the states appropriating millions of dollars for this purpose, the good roads movement has received its greatest impetus since the foundation of the Republic.

The money that will be expended on the roads of this country during the next six months will be more than ever before in the same period of time. In 1904, the total expenditure for the construction and maintenance of roads and bridges in the United States amounted to about $80,000,000, but the expenditure for this purpose in 1911 will aggregate about $140,500,000. Exclusive of Sundays, the outlay for roads will amount to $1,000,000 a day during the present road building season. This includes all moneys raised by local taxation, bond issues, state appropriations and private subscriptions.

"Every state in the Union," said Logan Waller Page, director of the United States office of public roads, in telling of the results of the great campaign for good roads, "seems at last to be thoroughly aroused to the benefits derived from investments in improved highways. In California, the state has issued $18,000,000 in bonds with which to build a system of state highways. This work will begin during the present season. In the state of Connecticut, about $2,250,000 will be expended this year out of the state treasury for trunk-line and state-aid roads. Of the $5,000,000 bond issue recently authorized in Maryland, over $1,250,000 will be available this year for trunk-line and state-aid roads, Massachusetts will expend from state revenue over $1,000,000, for the construction and maintenance of state roads.

"It is expected that at least $5,000,00 will be expended on state aid roads and on trunk-line systems in the state of New York, in addition to $7,000,000 already raised by local taxation. More money is being devoted to road improvement in New York than any other state in the Union, and the percentage of improved roads in that state has increased from 7.9 per cent. in 1904 to 60 per cent. in 1909.

"Over $2,000,000 is available in North Carolina from bond issues in the various counties for road improvement this year, and the legislature has authorized the construction of a road from the Atlantic Ocean to the Tennessee line, a distance of 425 miles.

"In 1910, thirty counties in Ohio voted $2,500,000 in bonds to be expended this year. Ohio will also expend about $500,000 from state revenue for road improvement. In Pennsylvania, the state-aid appropriation will probably amount to over $1,000,000, and a $50,000,000 bond issue is being considered. Various counties in Tennessee will expend $1,500,000 from bond issues. Over $1,500,000 will be expended from bond issues in various counties in Texas. In Virginia, $2,500,000 has been authorized by various counties, to be expended this year; while over $250,000 has been appropriated in the state of Wisconsin, in accordance with the state-aid system.

"The prospect for a complete system of public roads throughout the United States is better now than ever before in the history of the country, and a uniformity of recent good road laws gives promise that this country will eventually take its place with France in having the most sensible system of road supervision and maintenance."

KEPT MARRIAGE SECRET A YEAR

Burlington, June 1.—On the 3rd day of April, 1910, E. E. Turner, then of Chapel Hill, now of Burlington, and Miss Edith Belle Sneed, of South Boston, Va., were united in marriage. On the day of the marriage Mrs. Turner left for a visit to relatives in Missouri, and the marriage was kept a secret until last week, the bride returned and joined her husband here, when the marriage was announced. The witnesses to the marriage kept it secret and no one knew that they were married until the formal announcement.

Mr. Turner recently purchased the business of the Stephenson Grocery Company on Front street, and is a hustling business man.

BOY IS KILLED

Slain and Robbed by Thirteen-Year-Old Playmate.

New York, June 1.—The body of an 11-year-old boy, who was murdered, his playmates say, by a companion of thirteen years, was found tonight with a bullet hole in the breast in the dusty coal bin of a Cherry Street tenement, where it had lain for twenty-four hours.

The dead boy was identified as John Maile, who lived near the tenement. Youngsters in the neighborhood told detectives that the lad was slain by a companion, who took from him $15 and bought a new suit of clothes. A boy whom the police are looking for has not been home since the killing.

Carmine Piombino, who claims to have seen the shooting, accused Andrew Leone. "He shot John in my house when mother was away," the lad told the police. "He wanted John's money."

At midnight detectives found Leone and lodged him in jail, charged with the crime. He declared that Piombino, and not he, had done the shooting. Three other boys were held later as witnesses. The four boys so held told the police a story which has not been equaled, they say, since the days of Jesse Pomroy, the boy murderer, of Massachusettes.

The boys told of dashing water on the face of the dead lad to revive him. When he lay quite still, they say, they knelt down and prayed beside the body.

MAY MEET AT THE HAGUE

United States Wants "Drug" Conference held There.

Washington, June 1.—The postponed international conference for the suppression of opium and other habit-forming drugs, scheduled to open July 1, will be held at The Hague on October 1 if the efforts of the United States are successful. The State Department is communicating with the interested powers with that end in view.

Great Britian has advised the United States that it will adopt measures to prevent the exportation of opium, its alkaloids, derivatives and preparations, from India to any country which prohibits the entry of such drugs. This is in accordance with one of the articles adopted at the Shanghai opium conferenc.

ARMY REORGANIZATION.

Grant and Murray will Command Two of the Three Divisions.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—When the three-division reorganization of the army goes into effect July 1, Major-General Frederick D. Grant will command the Eastern Division, at New York, and Major-General Arthur Murray the Western Division, at San Francisco. A commander for the Central Division, at Chicago, has not yet been selected.

Before assuming active charge of his division, General Murray will relive Major-General William H. Carter as commander of the maneuvre division at San Antonio, Texas, for two or three months, after which General Grant will command that division for a similar period.

PRESIDENT MOFFITT OF ELON COLLEGE HAS RESIGNED

Elon College, June 1.—President E. L. Moffitt of Elon College, has tendered his resignation. This action is taken on account of the health of Mr. Moffitt. It is understood that the trustees are insisting that President Moffitt withdraw his resignation.

In case he persists in retiring Prof. W. A. Harper is being spoken of as his successor. Prof Harper has assisted the president in his work and during his illness he had charge of the work of the office.

Dr. J. O. Atkinson has been strongly urged to take the presidency, but it is not thought that he will consider the matter as he already has his hands full.

HER STORY UNTRUE

This Woman Will Get None of Uncle Sam's Money.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Mrs Louis A. Bliss, of Sheridan, Wyo.; Augusta county, Va., and several other places, who has put in a claim for a pension on the ground that, dressed as a man, she served many months in the Federal army as a member of Company Six, Sixty-third Illinois Infantry, during the Civil War, will not receive any of Uncle Sam's money.

Commissioner of Pensions Davenport said today that a thorough investigation of the woman's story proved it to be untrue.

Her story, however, had been widely circulated through the West, and at least one woman who sympathized with Mrs. Bliss wrote to President Taft asking that he take up the matter.

STRIPES IN CURTAINS

PRETTY PATTERNS ARE SEEN IN MUSLINS AND NETS.

Casement Design, Which Dispenses With the Window Blind, Is the Most Popular—Velvet Hangings a Costly Fancy.

The curtain which is most popular at the moment is the casement design. This curtain is extremely practical, for it dispenses with the window blind and looks well in most rooms, no matter what scheme of decoration prevails. Casement curtains can be fitted at small cost, too—another point in their favor—and they can be carried out in all kinds of materials, from soft silk to Shantung.

The rage for stripes in the world of dress has extended to curtains. Striped designs are to be seen in nets, muslins, etc., and very pretty they look. Dwarf curtains for the little casement windows are already to be had striped in insertion, or the stripes are simply woven in the material itself.

The Vitrage curtains from France gain in popularity each year. Made to hang flatly on the window, they are quite narrow, and finished with shaped or square ends. Vitrage curtains are particularly adapted for French windows, and they can be either short or long, just as the housewife likes.

The new muslin curtains, patterned with rosebuds, are being finished with plain hemstitched borders, and a pretty idea when using these curtains in bedrooms is to have the bedspread to match.

To have the hangings in the room in soft rich velvet in the same coloring and decoration as the carpet is a fancy of the season which is somewhat costly, but very lovely, particularly when the Persian colorings are used. The following materials for the portiere include brocades in silk or velvet, moires, tapestry, chenille, silk, tissue, etc. In design there are floral effects, conventional patterns and antique reproductions, while in some cases the material is quite plain with heavy fringe in silk as a finish.

HINTS FOR THE GUEST ROOM

Hostess Must Occupy It Occasionally If She Wishes It to Be Comfortable.

If a woman wishes to have her guest room entirely comfortable for friends who use it, she must sleep in it herself occasionally. Indeed, she must go a bit more and pretend that that she is visiting in her own house, using only the articles that are provided for guests. If she takes her room for a dressing room, merely sleeping in the guest chamber, she will fail entirely to note the latter's deficiencies.

One clever hostess who has friends in the house all the time makes it a rule to occupy one of the spare rooms herself once in two months. In this way she keeps closely in touch with the condition of each, and she knows what articles may be lacking or are wearing out.

It is rarely that a simple guest room has writing conveniences for its occupant, and yet for a person staying in the house for several days nothing is more necessary. It is rarely convenient, either for guests or the family, to have strangers using the library desk.

If the guest room is not large enough for a desk, an excellent substitute is a small table with a drawer. In the later a low inkstand, paper, envelopes and stamps also may be provided. If the table has no drawer, the stationery may be kept on top.

Stamps should never be omitted, for it is usually very inconvenient for a stranger to have to purchase them, even if she knows where they can be bought, and the expense to the hostess of putting three or four in the drawer is slight indeed.

On the dressing table a clothes brush and hand mirror are two articles which should always be provided. A box of toilet powder is also to be regarded as essential. Instead of having a puff in it a small silk bag containing absorbent cotton is best. Each person uses a fresh piece, throwing it away immediately. A puff is not good for more than one person to apply to the skin.

CASE FOR SHAVING PAPERS

Acceptable Present for a Man That Can Be Made Very Easily at Home.

A case for shaving papers generally forms a very aceptable present for a man, and in our sketch may be seen a pretty type of this useful little article.

It is designed for hanging upon the wall by the side of the dressing table and is of a diamond shape. For the foundation a piece of stiff cardboard should be cut out in the required size and covered both back and front with some pretty remnant of silk.

The pocket should next be arranged, and this should be made of the same silk and lined with soft silk of some contrasting shade, and edged with a silk cord.

The words "Shaving Paper" may be worked upon the front of it, or some pretty little floral design or initial may take their place.

The edge of the case is also finished off with silk cord, and at each point smart little rosettes of ribbon are sewn on. A drawing pin or small tack run through the case and into the wall just under the top resette, where it will not be visible, will suffice to fasten it in position.

The colors of the materials chosen for making the case should in a great measure be governed by the color of the wall-paper upon which it is to hang, but made in pale green silk with dark green silk cord and rosettes of pale pink, it will look very pretty and harmonize with the color of most wall papers.

Simple Silk Frocks.

Particularly interesting are the little frocks of silk which are displayed in a great variety of models. One of these, seen in one of the fashionable shops, was in a checked silk of a reddish mulberry tone, white and black, with a coat of black silk, whose huge revers and turnback cuffs were of the check. There was not a touch of elaboration. The straight skirt, moderately narrow at the bottom and finished with three deep, overlapping folds, was fulled slightly at the high waist line, the fullness being laid in little plaits around the sides and back. The tiny black coat was held in at the waistline by a shirred cord and the tiniest of frills fell below, rounding up to nothing at the middle front. A chemisette of net showed between the revers.

DAILY MARKET REPORTS

WEATHER REPORT.

Eastern belt, fair.

Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, generally fair; continued high temperatures.

West Texas, generally fair.

Weather map shows generally fair in western and central belt; part cloudy to fair in eastern States; no rain in central and western states, but light general showers in Alabama and Atlantics, mostly under quarter of an inch, except North Carolina, where heavier showers occurred.

HAYWARD AND CLARK'S LETTER TO J. E. LATHAM AND CO.

New Orleans, June 1.—The weather map shows generally fair in the central and western States; no rain and rather high temperatures. Partly cloudy to fair in the eastern States; light scattered showers, mostly less than a quarter of an inch and insufficient to relieve the situation except in localities in North Carolina where heavier showers occurred. Indications are for fair weather, generally; little change in temperatures except possibly more thundershowers in the northeastern quarter of the belt.

The Journal of Commerce makes condition 83, against 80.2 last year; acreage increase 5.5 per cent, or 35,208,679 acres. Mississippi condition 86.3; acreage increase 5.4.

Liverpool was strong at the time our market opened. Our market opened only a few points higher but showed a firm undertone. The belief that tomorrow's bureau may have some bearish effect is checking support, although people fully realize that the present weather conditions and prospects are the most important consideration. Europe is beginning to lose faith in the big crop promise and not without cause. This long dry hot spell is hardly the right weather for cotton planted in May. If it does no actual harm, it nevertheless delays progress and the crop is getting later instead of gaining time.

To appreciate how amnormal the weather is and the high temperature we make following comparisions: Average for the cotton belt, date June 1st, this year, maximum 95; last year maximum 83. May 31st, 94 against 89; May 30th, 93 against 88; May 29th, 93 against 86; May 28th, 95 against 85; May 27th, 92 against 82; May 26th, 90 against 80.

REVISITS OLD HOME

Only a Cave, but Dear to Heart of Aged Man.

Buffalo Hunter and Trapper, After Forty Years' Absence, Sees Again Cavern From Which He Stood Off Indians.

"My name is Johnson and I came back to visit the old cave down on the Ninnescah, where, nearly 40 years ago, I made my home. I want to visit the place where the Indians had me penned up for two weeks and where I was compelled to eat the meat of skunks to keep alive."

These were the words of an old man who stepped from an eastbound Santa Fe train here a few days ago. Johnson was a buffalo hunter and trapper, who roamed the prairie of the great desert country to the west of Wichita more than 40 years ago.

The cavern was cut in the side of the bluff near the river. Possibly it was natural, but the hand of man aided nature. Entrance was effected only by a small hole, almost imperceptible. Here Johnson made his home, having driven out the coyotes, rattlesnakes and owls which sought to make it their abode.

The cave was in two compartments, one used by the old trapper as a kitchen and the other for a sleeping room. An orifice extending through a seam in the bluff afforded an exit for smoke, which passed out at the top of the hill, and Johnson had cut a fireplace which connected with this natural flue.

One day in the summer of 1874, Johnson while returning from Wichita, where he had gone to market pelts and hides and to lay in supplies for his use, was overtaken by prowling Indians on the Ninnescah. There were twenty of the braves all decked out in war paint, and well mounted. Johnson knew that he must ride for his life, and, throwing away his load of supplies, rode for the cave. It was a long, wild ride, but he reached it first, turned his pony loose, crawled through the small entrance, and blocked it up.

With his rifle he picked off several Indians. This enraged the remainder of the band, then the siege began. They piled dried prairie grass in front of the entrance and sought to smoke the trapper out. But the smoke poured out of the exit at the top of the hill. The Indians quickly discovered this and attempted to block the orifice, but, although Johnson was nearly smothered he withstood the smoking out process.

The Indians kept up the siege for 15 days. Johnson, fortunately, had plenty of drinking water, for there was a spring within the cave. But he soon ran short of provisions. He was finally compelled to resort to eating the meat of some of the skunks which he had caught in the traps for their hides.

After they had lost about one-half their number, and without succeeding in getting the trapper out of the hole, the Indians left, for they received word that troops were marching west from Wichita to rescue him.

Johnson remained in his cavern home until civilization drove away the buffalo and other wild game, and then he departed for Colorado, where he lived as a recluse all these years, and whence he has returned to see his old home.—Stafford (Kan.) Dispatch to N. Y. Times.

LAUNDERING THE TUB FROCK

Several Ways In Which the Colors May Be Fixed If They Are Likely to Run.

The days for tub frocks are almost here, and with their advent the yearly problem of laundering without fading comes up in the mind of the practical woman, who must think not only of her own frocks, but those for her children.

Of course the majority of high-priced ginghams will wash well and retain their color under ordinary circumstances, but, on the other hand, the average washwoman hangs the delicate-tinted fabrics in the sun to dry, and this will generally work havoc in the coloring, says the Philadelphia Times.

Colored goods should be dried in the shade, and preferably on a windy day, since the wind has even greater drying powers than the sun.

However, if the colors are likely to run, no matter how careful one may be in the washing, there are several different ways by which they may be fixed, the best known of these methods being the use of salt, vinegar or alum in the rinsing water.

Some shades of blue are very perishable, and in these sugar of lead is used to fix the color, it being employed only once, and then during the first washing in the proportion of an ounce to a bucketful of water.

Salt, however, is best for all colors, especially the light one, although vinegar is more satisfactory in fixing the dark colors.

Alum, which should be used for green garments, should be melted in boiling water before adding it to the rinsing water, while in the case of ginghams with a combination of different colors it is safest to use both salt and vinegar.

New Writing Papers.

According to a fashionable stationer, many women are growing tired of the smooth linen-finished papers which have been in vogue for so long. They want something a little heavier in weight and a little rougher in finish.

To comply with this demand some new papers have been introduced—papers which look rather more masculine, but are none the less good-looking. White is preferred to colors, and the sizes are much the same.

"When is the best time to die?" gravely asks a contemporary. "Just before you try to introduce an old friend to an acquaintance and can't remember his name.

NORTH STATE CAPITAL NEWS

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, June 1.—There was anenthusiatistic mass meeting of the business men of Raleigh this afternoon at 5:45 o'clock in the uncompleted new municipal auditorium for the formation of the new commercial club to take the place of the old Chamber of Commerce. It was a stirring meeting in which the membership of the new organization was reported up to well over five hundred. The annual dues are $6 to $12 with contributing membership fees running up to $100 according to the interest the member feels in furthering the work of the chamber in pulling for greater Raleigh.

The contract for the new poultry building out at the State Fair grounds was awarded today, the work to begin at once. It is to be close by the handsome concrete building for agricultural exhibits that was erected last year. It will be 60x150 feet, modern in all arrangements for the best display of poultry in which such very general interest is being manifested both in city and country districts.

The United States District Court, Judge Connor presiding, cleared up the criminal docket today and adjourned until June 5 when Judge Connor will take up the consideration of a vast accumulation of affidavits and other documentary evidence connected with the approaching trial of the noted damage suit of Ware-Kramer Cigarette Company vs. American Tobacco Company in which damages to the amount of $1,200,000 is demanded for the destruction o fthe business of the plaintiff in Wilson and Norfolk by trust methods of destroying competition. This trial is to begin June 13. The affidavits already filed in this suit comprise ten thousand legal cap pages of typewritten matter.

During the criminal term of court just closed there were seven prisoners sentenced to terms in the Atlanta prison, four to the county jails and one to the reformatory. During the term the fines and forfeitures collected aggregated $4,500, this term being regarded as unusual in the matter of the large amount collected during the term in actual money.

Adjutant General Leinster, of the North Carolina National Guard, announces another detachment of officers of the Guard to go to the San Antonio, Texas, camp of Federal troops for a two weeks' training in camp life school. They are to report at San Antonio June 12 and to do this will have to start on the trip June 8. The officers designated for this detachment follow: Lt. Col. J. Van B. Metts, Second Infantry, Wilmington; Major Lawrence W. Young, First Infantry, Asheville; Capt. Thadius Stem, Third Infantry, Reidsville; Capt. H. H. Murray, Adjutant, Second Infantry, Wilson; Capt. E. P. Carpenter, First Infantry, High Point; First Lieut. W. R. Miller, Third Infantry, Raleigh. This is the fifth detachment that has been assigned from North Carolina to San Antonio camp.

State Insurance Commissioner James R. Young will have out in a few days his twelfth annual report of the work of the department, the fiscal year for which ends April 1. It will show that since the establishment of the department in 1899 $2,200,000 revenue has been collected and turned over to the state treasury.

Dr. H. P. VALUE OF FARM PRODUCTS SHOW A BIG INCREASE

An Advancement of 120 Per Cent. During Past Decade Noted.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, June 1.—That within the past ten years North Carolina has advanced 129 per cent in the value of farm products is a significant feature of the annual report of Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham made today to the State Board of Agriculture in session here. The increase has been from fifty three millions farm product value in 1910. Along with this statement he points out that in 1900 there were held in the state under the auspices of the agricultural department only twenty farmer's institutes whereas there were held during 1910 over four hundred, the increase having been gradual through the decade. He congratulated the board on discontinuing expensive and unprofitable exhibits at great expositions and expending revenues in direct effort with the farmers to improve their methods

The commissioner reports receipts of the department from the twenty cent tonnage tax on fertilizer tags and other sources for the six months ending June 1 to be $170,194 with a balance in the treasury of $58,040. The sale of fertilizer tags represents a total tonnage of $683,247 tons sold in the state for the six months. The receipts from the oil division which go into the general fund of the state treasury are not included in the department receipts. This division brought in $26,163 for the six months. The expense of the division was $12,216, leaving a balance net profit to the state of $14,000.

In reviewing the work of the several divisions of the department the commissioner declares that there is gratifying progress in all, these including the test farms, the state museum, division of animal industry, entomology, horticulture, demonstration, botany, agronomy, pure food work, and the oil division.

Ladies to Serve Dinner and Supper.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Church of the Covenant will serve dinner and supper in the dining room of the Public Service Building Friday and Saturday. Dinner will be served for 35 cents and supper for 25 cents. The public invited to call and get a fine dinner.

In Honor of Pastor and Wife.

Last evening at the First Baptist church the ladies of the church gave a reception in honor of the pastor, Rev. J. Clyde Turner, and Mrs. Turner. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all, many members of the congregation taking advantage of the occasion to meet the new pastor and his wife.

Lassiter-Marshall.

At the home of Rev. W. R. Ware, the district parsonage on Summit avenue, a quiet but pretty marriage ceremony was performed yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mr. Ware joined in wedlock Miss Frances W. Marshall, of the vicinity of Mt. Airy and Mr. S. F. Lassiter, of Asheboro. The couple were accompanied by the sister of the bride, Miss Hulda Marshall, and Mr. McOliver, of Marietta.

During the past term Mrs. Lassiter taught school in Farmer, Randolph county. Mr. Lassiter is the superintendent of public instruction of Randolph county, and through these relations the couple developed an acquaintance that ripened into love and led them to the altar. Mr. and Mrs. Lassiter left yesterday for a visit at the home of the groom in Asheboro.

Surprise Marriage.

Announcements reading as follows were issued yesterday:

"Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cox announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen Bryan, to Mr. Thomas Broughton Gaskins on Thursday, June 1, 1911.

"At home after June 10 at 694 Chestnut street, Greensboro, North Carolina."

This announcement comes as a distinct surprise to the friends of the bride and groom. The ceremony was performed yesterday morning at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Chestnut street, Rev. J. Clyde Turner officiating. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gaskins left for a stay in Asheville and Toxaway. They will return to the city in ten days.

Both bride and groom are deservedly popular and their many friends throughout the city wish for them a happy journey through life.

Miss Harry Entertains.

The summer series of social functions for the younger set opened most brilliantly last evening at the home of Miss Frances Harry on West Market street. The occasion was in honor of her house guests, Misses Marie McKinley and Helen Colt, of Charlotte, and Miss Edwina Uzzell, of Raleigh. The visitors are most charming and attractive young ladies and the reception of last night introduced them to society of Greensboro, which, during the remainder of the house party at the Harry home, will aid in furnishing enjoyment to the guests by a number of brilliant attractions.

Fully 125 couples partook of Miss Harry's hospitality which was in the nature of a porch party. Numerous rustic chairs and settees were placed about the lawn in cozy nooks, affording ample opportunity for progressive conversation, an amusement that charmingly occupied the young people. Inside the house was beautifully decorated. Many large ferns and palms, intermingled with daisies and roses, transformed the porch and parlors into dainty bowers. In the sitting room and dining room also, where dancing continued throughout the evening, many handsome dsigns of embroidery, executed with exquisite workmanship, added greatly to the beauty of the scene.

As the guests arrived they were met in the entrance-way by the hostess of the evening in pink crepe de chine, Robert Nicolson, of Salisbury; Miss McKinley, in marquisette over green messaline; Miss Edwina Uzzell, dressed daintily in blue silk, and Miss Helen Colt, in a handsome gown of white embroidery trimmed in pink. At the front door the guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Harry, the latter dressed in white hand-made embroidery.

Punch was served throughout the evening at each end of the porch. Misses Edith Marrow, gowned in pink silk trimmed in lace, and Eva Martin, in net over white messaline, assisted by Garland Ricks, presided over one refreshment bowl. Misses Ada Robeson, in a dress of white lingerie, and Elizabeth Harry, in chiffon over yellow silk, with James Jamison, served from the other bowl.

Miss Harry's house party will continue for a week. Several guests will arrive today and Saturday. The arrival of Misses Anna Louise Andrews, of Charlotte; Eleanore Norman, of Concord; Julia Henry, of Timmonsville, S. C.; Elizabeth Nicolson, of Salisbury, and Emma Bolton, of Tincastle, Va., will complete the merry crowd that will enjoy further revels from their genial hostess during the coming week.

Miss Madge Shields of this city is the guest of Miss Bertha Bennett in Durham.

JUST Rheumacide IT CURES

Rheumatism and Blood Diseases

The cause of rheumatism is excess uric acid in the blood. To cure rheumatism this acid must be expelled from the system. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. Rubbing with oils and liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure rheumatism than paint will change the fiber of rotten wood.

Cures Rheumatism To Stay Cured.

Science has discovered a perfect and complete cure called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected marvelous cures. Rheumacide removes the cause, gets at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the bowels and kidneys. Sold by druggists at 50c. and $1; in the tablet form at 25c. and 50c., by mail. Booklet free.

HOW TO CURE ECZEMA, ITCH AND ALL SKIN DISEASES

Don't suffer a moment longer with Eczema, or any form of skin or blood troubles. Don't scratch or rub the skin. Just apply Hancock Sulphur Compound to the affected spots and it will stop the itching at once, and cure the trouble permanently. One 50c bottle will cure that prevalent trouble, Common Itch. Nothing cures skin troubles so quickly as Hancock Sulphur Compound. To beautify the complexion and remove black heads and pimples, use Hancock Sulphur Ointment, 25c. Mrs. Evelyn Garst, of Salem, Va., writes: "Three years ago I had a rough place on my cheek, it would burn and itch. I was fearful it might be of a cancerous nature.. I used different preparations, but nothing ever helped it. One bottle of Sulphur Compound cured me completely. I recommend it to any one having any skin disease." COMMISSIONERS IN NEW OFFICES

The offices for the City Commissioners have about been completed and the officials are moving in. A few finishing touches and the offices will be complete. The appearance of the rooms is in marked contrast with the appearance of a few months ago. The offices are inviting in appearance, still there is a business-like air that impresses most. Mayor Murphy moved yesterday, occupying the office vacated yesterday by Commissioner Foushee. Commissioners Brown and Foushee have offices in the south room of the building and Building Inspector Milton occupies this room also. Health Officer Donovant will have headquarters in the police office.

The next improvement to be made by the city will be the removal of the calaboose from the rear of the police office and placing the cells in the room recently used to store the patrol wagon and horse. This will afford room for additional cells that will have to be secured in order to accommodate the street prisoners who will be added to from time to time. In fact it is quite probable that an addition will have to be had for there is but little doubt that the street force will average from ten to twenty hands shortly. There are already two street prisoners being kept in the calaboose.

As soon as the calaboose is moved the present location will be cleaned up and used by the police as a locker room. A bath room will be fitted up adjoining the present cell room and the police afforded other conveniences that have long been needed. An electric sign has been placed in front of the office to guide those having business with the police at night.

NEGROES CONFESS CRIME

Killed Salesman, But Refuse to Tell What They Did With Body.

Bluefield, W. Va., June 1.—Carl Simpson, a Chicago traveling salesman, was mysteriously murdered here a month ago, and today three negroes confessed the crime. The body is believed to have been put in a coal car and covered with coal.

Simpson walked out of a hotel here on April 27, and was not again seen.

The negroes—Jim Perry, Bob Foster and William Harvey—refused to tell what disposition was made of the body. Vigorous search has been made and every effort put forth to find the body, but so far without success. The prisoners were removed to Princeton jail for safekeeping. Another prisoner in the same cell says the men put the body in a coal car and covered it with coal.

Much of the coal shipped from here is for export, and the belief is growing that the body of Simpson has been lowered unnoticed into some foreign ship or some coastwise vessel at Norfolk.

The scene of the murder was beside the railroad tracks.

ABLE HELPERS FOR STATESMEN

Senators Have Secretaries Who Do Their Work.

KNOW ALL PRIVATE AFFAIRS.

Wallace Bassford Has Been a Political Associate of Speaker Clark For Eighteen Years, and He Signs Most of the Missourian's Official and Personal Letters.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 1.—(Special.)—Every man in public life should have an understudy, or at least a man who can take hold of his political business and take care of it during his absence or illness. Many men owe their continued success in public life to the fact that they have some efficient man looking after their interests.

There are several United States senators who would not know where to turn were it not for the men who have full and complete knowledge of their affairs and can answer every letter and attend to all business save only that which is performed in the senate chamber.

Up to the time he left the senate Senator Hale of Maine had such a man in the late Pitman Pulsifer. The same is true of Senator Frye, for whom Woodbury Pulsifer attends to all business and has made it possible for Maine to have the services of her venerable senior senator even when he has been confined to his home by illness.

Indispensable Assistants.

Joseph A. Breckons has such a grasp of the official affairs of Senator Warren that the latter can look after his vast business interests and still satisfactorily attend to his senatorial duties. John J. Hannan is almost indispensable to Senator La Follette.

For eighteen years Wallace Bassford has been associated with Champ Clark, and so well does he know the political interests of the speaker that Mr. Clark does not sign more than 15 per cent of all the letters that are sent out from his room, nor does he ever read half the mass of correspondence that is piled into the speaker's room.

There are many other men in public life who lean heavily upon some bright and intelligent assistant in caring for public and political affairs.

Changed His Mind.

Senator Sutherland of Utah tells a story to show how he changed his mind when he was quite a young man. It was the first Christmas after he was married, and he went about looking into different shops seeking a present which he thought would suit Mrs. Sutherland. Finally he saw a sealskin coat in a window which he thought she ought to have. He went in and priced it. When the clerk said $500 the young benedict nearly collapsed.

"I think I compromised on a plush album costing $2.50," said the Utah senator in telling the story.

"I really think I have that album yet," remarked Mrs. Sutherland.

Whiskers Take Time.

While the war between whiskers and bald heads continues to rage, evidence on one side or the other is being gathered. A baldheaded scout, pursuing Mr. Justice Hughes, who has brought more whiskers to the supreme bench than any man in a quarter of a century, traced him to a barber shop recently and really thought he obtained a big chunk of evidence for his side. If Hughes should sacrifice those whiskers it would mean much to the bald headed end of the game. And so he asked an attendant at the door of the shop:

"Is Mr. Justice Hughes in there?"

"Yes, sir."

"What keeps him so long? Is he having his whiskers shaved off?" These queries were made with much eagerness.

"No, sir; just trimmed. Most clean shaven men don't know it; but, you see, it is harder work and takes a much longer time to trim Judges Hughes' whiskers than it would to swipe 'em clean off with a nice sharp razor."

One on the Banker.

An advocate of the farmers was talking to the senate finance committee, and Senator Stone of Missouri sought to show that there were more editors, officeholders, bankers and business men in the delegation than farmers. And he came pretty near doing it too. In reply to a question as to bankers the farmer advocate said:

"Let me tell you, gentlemen, that the last gold brick sold in Minneapolis for $25,000 was sold to a country banker. You see, there are men who are both bankers and farmers, and sometimes it is hard to distinguish them."

Bob Bailey's Method.

The new assistant secretary of the treasury, Robert O. Bailey, has introduced a little scheme in regard to men who make recommendations for the appointment of friends to office which is interesting. As soon as the congressman or other man gets through Bailey turns to a phonograph, gives the date and name of visitor and repeats as nearly as he can everything the visitor has said. He files the phonograph roll away for future reference. Occasionally there are men who do not like the method and beg off after having made a recommendation.

THE KITCHEN

Scotch Stews

Two pounds of potatoes, one pound of onions, one good sized carrot, a turnip, half a head of celery, salt and pepper, one pound of middle neck of mutton, and about one and a half pints of water.

Dip a cloth in hot water and wipe meat quickly. Cut into pieces and remove a little of the fat if there is very much.

Wash and scrub the potatoes, then peel very thin and cut in halves. Peel the onions and cut them in slices. Wash and prepare the carrot and turnip and cut them into dice, then wash the celery carefully and cut this in thin rings.

Put the meat in a saucepan with the water and a teaspoonful of salt.

Let it come to the boil, then skim it very thoroughly. Add the vegetables, but on the lid and let the stew cook gently for about two hours until the meat and vegetables are tender.

Season it carefully, then flavor with pepper and salt, thicken the gravy and add browning if necessary and serve at once. Unless the carrotts are young they will take longer to cook than anything else, so it is well to try these.

Egg Sauce.

One pint of milk or equal parts of milk and stock of fish in equal proportions, two ounces of butter, one and a half ounces of flour, salt and pepper, two hard boiled eggs, and a quarter of a pint of cream.

Boil the eggs for at least 15 minutes, then lay them in cold water.

Melt the butter in a saucepan, stir in the flour smoothly and let it cook over the fire for a few minutes without letting in color, as this gives the sauce a nice glazed look. Then add the liquid slowly and stir it over the fire until it boils well and thickens.

Chop the hard boiled eggs coarsely, add them to the sauce with salt and pepper to taste, and lastly add the cream. This, however, may be omitted if you do not want to afford cream and a little extra milk used instead.

HINTS FOR THE BOUDOIR

(By MILDRED WYCKOFF.)

About the Teeth.

Far too much reliance is placed upon the toothbrush in cleansing the teeth. In those cases where the gums have receded it is impossible to cleanse the teeth thoroughly with the brush, for after brushing the teeth if one takes a toothpick and passes it between them, it will be found that many small particles of food remain.

The tooth pick is of great value in cleansing the teeth, and the hard orange wood variety is the best, for a toothpick should never be used a second time. A toothpick will remove the particle of food and the soft tartar better than dental floss.

After cleansing the teeth with the brush and whatever dentifrice is used, pass the pointed end of the toothpick between the teeth; then wind a wisp of cotton on the other end, dip it in the saturated solution of boric acid and wipe around the gums and between the teeth front and back; afterwards rinse the teeth thoroughly with the solution.

Do this after each meal and the tartar will not collect, the gums will harden and a well nigh perfect cleanliness will be obtained.

For the Complexion.

Boracic ointment is excellent to apply to pimples and rough places, but for a general complexion beautifier, bathe the face at night in warm water, and then rub in a good cold cream and let it remain on for ten minutes, then wipe off with an old linen rag. In the morning wash the face in warm water and give it a final rinsing in cold water. This clears the skin and gives in a rich, healthy glow.

CHIEF WEIGHER SUSPENDED

Government Will Investigate Port at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 1.—Following an investigation of alleged customs irregularities at that port, Henry Clay Marshall, chief weigher at the Philadelphia custom house, this afternoon was suspended from duty by Chester W. Hill, collector of the port. The suspension is subject to the approval of the Treasury Department at Washington. The Treasury Department sent Henry M. Arnold here to conduct an investigation before the grand jury into alleged irregularities.

Mr. Arnold is quoted as saying that no prosecutions are sought, but the government desires to know the situation at this port.

REIDSVILLE REVIEW CONTEST HAS CLOSED

Reidsville, June 1.—The following young ladies have been elected to enjoy The Reidsville Review's two weeks' outing at Piedmont Springs hotel, under the chaperonage of John T. Oliver, Mrs. Oliver and Miss Marion Oliver: Misses Mary Windsor, Inez Wootton, Edna King, Kitty May Irvin, Reidsville; Della Jones, Leakesville; Gladys Cummings, New Bthel; Iris Fitzgerald, Ruffin; Bessie Richardson, Benaja; Gertrude McKinney, McIver; Luda Mosley, Winston; Wilson Waltington, Caswell county; Mattie Gardner, Pittsylvania county, Va.

The party will go to the mountains of Stokes county in automobiles and will traverse a section not before visited by automobiles. The authorities of Stokes county have widened and improved some of the roads in order to make this possible, and the Piedmont hotel promises to be crowded with guests during the sojourn of The Review's party as a number of the friends of the successful young ladies have planned to be there with them. The party will leave Reidsville within the next few days.

RUSSIA ALARMED

Looks With Fear Upon Chinese Armament in Manchuria.

St. Petersburg, June 1.—In a leading article today the Novoe Vremya points warningly to the Chinese armament in Manchuria, which, it says, calls for the greatest vigilance on the part of Russia.

The paper declares that 6,500 European trained troops are being quartered in the towns and villages within a three days' march of Harbin, and that auxiliary troops are being maintained in the same area; that 90,000 so-called rural guards have been drafted along the Chinese Eastern Railroad and that four divisions of regular troops have been stationed at various strategical points in the province.

Russia, the Novoe Vremya says, can place in opposition to this force only the feeble ranks of the railroad police, which now are scarcely able to cope even with Chinese bandits.

CONCORD MERCHANTS REORGANIZE RETAIL MEN'S ASSOCIATION

Concord, June 1.—A number of merchants of the city have formed a reorganization of the Retail Merchants' Association. This association was organized several years ago and for a time it was effective, but interest finally lagged to such an extent that about all the members dropped out. For the past several months there has been an effort made on them here to re-organize the association, and a call was issued for a meeting of those interested last night. About twenty responded and manifested considerable interest in the work and decided unanimously to perfect the organization. The charter of the former association is still in effect and the organization was perfected under this. Mr. J. E. Davis was elected president and Mr. Lewis Hartsell secretary.

The other officials will be elected Monday night when the association will meet again and adopt by-laws for a permanent organization and elect delegates to the state meeting of the association which will be held in Hendersonville, June 20, 21 and 22. A thorough canvass of the merchants of the city for members will be made between now and Monday night and it is expected that the membership will be greatly increased at that meeting.

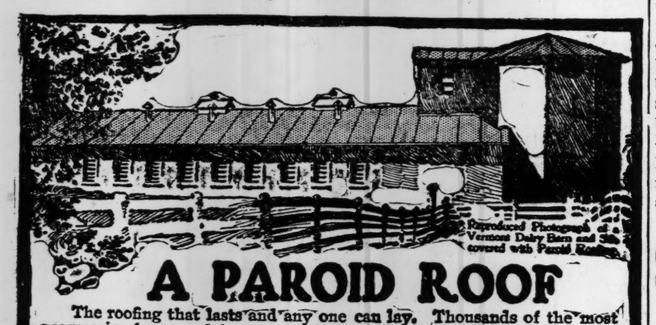
Roofing and Building Material, Plaster and Lime



A PAROID ROOF

The roofing that lasts and any one can lay. Thousands of the most progressive farmers, dairymen, poultrymen, etc., as well as railroad companies and the U. S. Government, use PAROID for roofing and siding in preference to all others, because they have proved that PAROID is

The Most Economical
The Most Durable
The Most Satisfactory
} Of All Ready Roofings

THIS IS WHY: It is made of extra strong felt with an extra good saturation and coating, which make it proof against sparks, cinders, water, heat, cold, acids, and fumes. Slate color, contains no tar, does not run or crack, and it does not taint rain-water.
The only roofing with rust-proof caps. They cannot rust out like ordinary roof caps. Don't be put off with a cheap imitation, get the most economical and durable—the roofing that lasts.

National Evangelist of the W. C. T. U. Coming to Greensboro.

The people of Greensboro will have an opportunity to hear Mrs. Rebecca J. Trego, of Cleveland, O., a national evangelist of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in West Market Methodist church, Sunday night, June 4th. Mrs. Trego has been traveling in the western part of the state and from testimonies from different places has made a profound impression. She has been on the lecture platform for thirty years and has been a blessing wherever she has gone. The people must admit the W. C. T. U. has been instrumental in bringing some gifted speakers to Greensboro and Mrs. Trego is equal to any. Be sure to hear her.

T-WINSTON SLUGGERS PERCH AT THE TOP

Clancy's Men Took One From Doyleites by Score of 4 to 1.

By a score of 4 to 1 Clancy's Twins captured yesterday's game from the Patriots and went to the top of the percentage column. Greensboro now yields top place temporarily to Winston-Salem but by winning this afternoon's game the Patriots may go to the top again.

Swindell was on the knoll for the visitors and was in splendid form. Inability of Doyle's men to connect with the big twirler's curves was responsible for the defeat. Walters was on the mound for the locals but was hit by the Twins when they needed hits. All of the Twins runs but the last one were earned. The game was featured by the good infield work of the two teams and the pitching of Swindell, who held some of the heavy Patriot sluggers hitless.

The only run of the locals was made in the third inning by Rickard who got a base on balls and scored on Gates' error. In the next inning Gates led off with a double, was advanced to third by Clancy and scored on Shumaker's sacrifice fly. In the seventh Shumaker and Edwards singled and scored on Boyle's pretty drive for two bases. O'Halloran made the last run in the eighth inning.

SPARTANBURG'S NEW MUSICIANS HAD WINNING TUNE

Spartanburg, S. C., June 1.—With two new men on the local line up and the batting order changed the Red Sox won from the Spinners this afternoon 5 to 0. Woods' pitching was superb and held the visitors down, allowing only nine men to reach first and none to reach second. The visitors' fielding prevented a number of runs for the locals. Kipp, a new short stop, is a Texas leaguer. Wooford at third was last year with Albany and lead the club in batting until injured by a thrown ball.

LAD KNOCKED DOWN BY AN AUTOMOBILE.

South Elm street directly in front of the Grissom Drug Co. was the scene of another painful accident yesterday afternoon. Carl Temple, a small boy of ten years, attempted to cross the street in the midst of the busy traffic. He became confused and, although he attempted to dodge an approaching auto, and though R. G. Glenn, who was at the wheel, made a desperate effort to stop, the boy was knocked against the stone curbing. Bystanders carried the lad, painfully injured, into the drug store, and Drs. Dodson and Bowman dressed the wound, which was a deep cut over the right eye requiring several stitches to close it. The lad was able to walk home after the treatment and can indeed be considered fortunate in escaping so lightly from what might easily have been a serious or even fatal accident. The affair was declared by eye-witnesses to be entirely unavoidable and the blame can be rested upon no one. The boy is the son of Mr. W. A. Temple, who was rather seriously injured in an accident last week, but is now recovering nicely.

The Modish Sash.

The Paris artists of fashion have decreed that sashes shall be worn.

They will be seen in many forms and upon various occasions.

The Japanese bow is in high favor.

The adapted obi is made of a wide band of velvet which reaches almost to the shoulders and makes the back look absurdly short.

The wearer of this velvet obi looks as if she had tied a small bolster to her back.

Then there is the monstrous butterfly bow for evening wear.

To secure the effect a wide piece of silk or chiffon is tied about the waist; then caught behind into two huge wings.

These are twisted in the center and spread out to be caught in points just below the shoulders.

Of Striped Taffeta.

Very smart are the belts and stocks of striped taffeta. These are made to match and come in black and white, blue, pink, mauve, etc., with white and with a gun metal belt buckle the effect is good. Less expensive are those of striped linen.

The World's Greatest Need.

Every married man fully realizes that what the world needs most is more dressmakers.

SMALL WOMEN MAY REJOICE

Stripes, Long Revers, Short Trains and High Heeled Shoes All Help Them.

Now that stripes are at the top notch of fashion it will be to the advantage of the short woman to take some thought in the using of striped material for her gowns and suits.

In fact the fashions are kind to the short woman this season for with the long revers on coats and wraps, the simple cut and the small high toque, any woman with a little discrimination in choice may in very fact "add a cubit to her stature."

In evening gowns the advent of the short train has been heralded with delight by the small woman, for the sweep of goods at the back lends an air of dignity, grace and height to the wearer that could not be gained with the short length "little girl" frocks which were popular throughout the winter.

Another help is the high heel—not the insecure French variety, which is only suitable for evening wear, but the high straight heel with a broad enough base to admit of resting the foot securely on the ground. These are all immense helps to the small woman, who, if she will but take heed of them, may, in appearance, add several inches to her height.

Flower Selection.

In selecting flowers for the sitting or drawing room thought should be given to the general tone of decoration. If the wall paper be a soft, dull blue or green, above all if the aspect be north, yellow or orange flowers seem to provide the sunshine that is lacking; and from the beginning of autumn to its return there is seldom a month when some blossom does not approach the glorious sun in tone.

Yellow chrysanthemums, double and single daffodils, sweet tulips, plain and variegated; buttercups redolent of the country and the effective but not always appreciated nasturtium, in its many hues, from straw color to orange and chestnut; American marigolds, the small perennial sunflower and the barberry with its yellow clusters, will take us "round the clock."

Fringes.

Fringes are seen on many of the new lingerie gowns as girdle and tunic trimming.

One beautiful variety is of knotted silver braid, very long, and with the strands set far apart.

Strips of cut cloth and leather in Indian fashion trim walking frocks.

Coarse crochet has several sizes of small wooden beads knotted into it.

This last gives charming color possibilities in odd, crazy quilt effects.

But the best of these fringe trimmings is that most of them can be duplicated by the home seamstress, thus saving money and gaining originality by modification.

Longevity of Horses.

Gray horses are the longest lived. Creams are usually delicate, and are seriously affected by very warm weather.
